ACS Basics

The American Community Survey

- Ongoing survey that samples about 3.5 million addresses per year
- Collects data on a wide range of demographic, social, economic, and housing characteristics
- Designed to produce critical information that was previously collected in the decennial census
- Fully implemented in 2005
- Publishes annual estimates for small geographic areas and population groups

ACS Content

Social

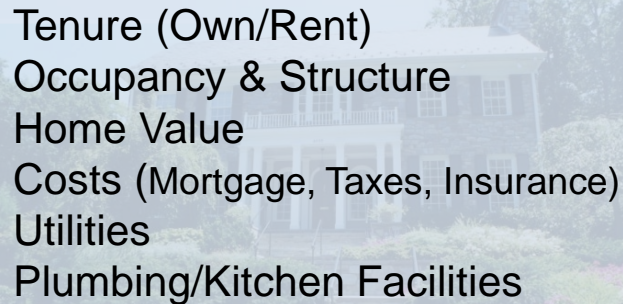

- Education
- Marital Status
- Fertility
- Veterans
- Disability
- Citizenship
- Language
- Migration

- Employment Status
- Income
- Commuting
- Occupation & Industry
- Health Insurance

- Home Value
- Costs (Mortgage, Taxes, Insurance)
- Utilities
- Plumbing/Kitchen Facilities

Housing

- Sex
- Age
- Race
- Hispanic Origin
- Relationship to Householder

Demographic

5-Year Estimates

- Describe the average characteristics over a specific period of time, not a single point in time
- 5-Year estimates are NOT an average of 1-year estimates
- Data are pooled across 60 months, weighted to produce estimates, and controlled for age, sex, race, and Hispanic origin
- Estimates are based on geographic boundaries as of January 1 of the last year in the 5-year period
- Dollar-value estimates are inflation adjusted to the most recent year for the period

Using 5-Year Estimates

- No 1-year estimate is available
- Margins of error for 1-year estimates are larger than required
- Analyzing data for small population groups
- Comparing various geographies when one or more of them do not receive 1-year estimates

5-Year Comparisons

- Only compare non-overlapping time periods (e.g., 2010-2014 and 2005-2009)
- Only compare estimates from the same dataset (e.g., 5-Year to 5-Year)
- Compare across geographies and subpopulations
- Compare percentages, means, medians and rates whenever possible

Comparing 2005-2009 ACS 5-year and 2010-2014 ACS 5-year

Tweet Share

When comparing the 2005-2009 ACS 5-year estimates with the 2010-2014 ACS 5-year estimates, there are several issues to consider:

- Change in geographic boundaries - The 2005-2009 ACS 5-year estimates used legal boundaries as of January 1, 2009 and statistical geographies used Census 2000 vintage geographies. The 2010-2014 ACS 5-year estimates use legal boundaries as of January 1, 2013 and most statistical areas use 2010 Census vintage geographies. For more information on geographic concepts used in the ACS, visit Geography and the ACS.
- Change in population controls - The 2005-2009 ACS 5-year estimates and 2010-2014 ACS 5-year estimates use different Census base years for the population estimates used in the ACS weighting. Estimates of population size are not comparable between 2005-2009 and 2010-2014. Estimates of percent distributions, rates, and ratios for age, sex, race, and Hispanic origin should be compared with caution. For more details, visit the ACS Research Note Change in Population Controls [PDF - <1.0 MB].
- Change in the questionnaire or coding - The table below provides details by subject for major questionnaire or coding changes.

Addition of Group Quarters Data - Group quarters data were included in the ACS starting in 2006. The 2005-2009 ACS 5-Year estimates have one year (2005) out of five where data for group quarters were not collected.

Households and Families

In 2009-2013 there were 115.6 million households in United States. The average household size was 2.6 people. Families made up 66 percent of the households in United States. This figure includes both married-couple families (49 percent) and other families (18 percent). Of other families, 7 percent are female householder families with no husband present and own children under 18 years. Nonfamily households made up 34 percent of all households in United States. Most of the nonfamily households were people living alone, but some were composed of people living in households in which no one was related to the householder.

In United States, 33 percent of all households have one or more people under the age of 18; 25 percent of all households have one or more people 65 years and over.

Among persons 15 and older, 51 percent of males and 47 percent of females are currently married.

Accessing ACS 5-Year Block Group Data in American FactFinder

What is a Block Group?

Access American FactFinder

The screenshot shows the American FactFinder website. At the top left is the U.S. Department of Commerce logo and the United States Census Bureau logo. The main header features the 'AMERICAN FactFinder' logo with a magnifying glass icon over a map of the United States. Navigation links include 'Feedback', 'FAQs', 'Glossary', and 'Help'. A secondary navigation bar contains 'MAIN', 'COMMUNITY FACTS', 'GUIDED SEARCH', 'ADVANCED SEARCH', and 'DOWNLOAD CENTER' (which is highlighted with a red box). Language options for 'English' and 'Español' are also present. The main content area on the left lists 'Community Facts', 'Guided Search', 'Advanced Search', and 'Download Center'. The 'Community Facts' section includes a search prompt: 'Find popular facts (population, income, etc.) and frequently requested data about your community.' Below this is a search input field with the example 'e.g., Atlanta, GA' and a 'GO' button. On the right side of the page, there is a photograph of a smiling young woman in a classroom setting.
