Sad Case of Premature Burial at Madison, Wis.

IMPROPER HASTE OF INTERMENTS

The City Authorities Cause a Suppose Victim of Diphtheria To Be Buried at Once, and Subsequently, When the Grave Was Opened, It Was Found That the Person Had Been Buried Alive-Excitement Over the Awful Affair.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 13.-A sad case of premature burial has just developed here. About a mosth ago diphtheria appeared in the home of a prominent family. A young domestic was terribly frightened, and desired to go to her home in the country, but the attending physician would not permit this, not from fear of spreading disease, but to render assistance to the family. A young child died of the dread disease, and this, with the horror of disease, caused the girl to take to her bed and she apparently died in a fow hours, and was at once buried by the authori Had Been Buried Alive.

A few days ago her parents obtained per-mission to remove the body to the country, and upon opening the casket they were hot rified to discover that the body was lying on its face, the hair wrenched from the head and the fiesh literally torn from the face and hands. There have been several deaths here from diphtheria, and criticism is freely expressed at the hurried manner in which the funeral of the victims are had after the death. There is much excitement here over this horrible affair.

MISCELLANEOUS MISHAPS.

Two Women and a Child Parished. DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 13.-A special to The News from Hancock, Mich., says: The Huron mine office burned Thursday night. It was a large building, formorly occupied as a store, and the second story was used as a boarding house. Most of the boarders were on the night shift and were not in the were on the light shift and were not in the building at the time of the fire. One man jumped and was badly injured. Two Find-lander women and a 6-weeks-old child per-ished in the flames. A fireman succeed in getting one of the women to a window, but was forced to abandon her in order to save his own life. The origin of the fire is unknown. Loss about $2,000.

Died at His Post.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 13.-W. B. Allen a well-known engineer on the Georgia Pacific railroad, dropped dead on his locomotive at Leeds Thursday. He was sick, but insisted on fulfilling his duty, and went out as The biggest stock of fine usual. He got to Leeds, where he reached for the air brake and, instead of grasping the handle, fell in the fireman's arms with the exclamation, "Oh, my God," and died. He was chief of division 207, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers of Atlanta. He leaves a wife and children.

Narrow Escape from Death.

BOSTON, Dec. 13.-While the Lawrence express on the Boston and Maine road was passing over the new track beyond the draw bridge outside the railroad yard in Boston Friday morning the rear wheels of the last car left the track, and, breaking through the new trestlework, the car was precipitated to the track below. The car was filled with passengers but only one person, who was slightly cut by window glass, was injured.

The Johnston Horror.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Dec. 13.—The coroner jury has returned a verdict declaring that the horror in Parker's Opera house, by which ten lives were lost, was almost entire ly due to the fact that there was but one exit, and requesting the authorities to pro hibit further performances in the building until it has been properly altered. The house will remain closed for the present.

Fatal Race, with a Train.

Stoux City, Iowa, Dec. 13.-John G. Kruck, a grocer, 53 years old, attempted to drive across the Illinois Central track shead of a moving train, and was instantly killed. He had been racing with the train, driving a horse attached to his delivery wagon.

The cave has already been explored for 500 for twenty-one years at the rate of $25,000 feet, and the end has not been reached. The company has refused $40,000 for the dis

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 18.—It is reported that the statements recently put in circulation to the effect that the Russian mission had been tendered to Mr. Harrison, of Philadelphia, were intended to test public sentiment, and that the comment on the succession was of each of the statement of the succession was of each of the succession. sentiment, and that the comment on the suggestion was of such character that the appointment will not be made.

Barkeeper Dinham. New York, Dec. 13.-Miss Alta Sickles, who married Thomas A. Dinham claudes tinely, was not a daughter of Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, but a half-sigter. The bride's mother was the widow of Capt. Sawyer, of the British army, and was for many years house keeper to George E. Sickles, father of Gen. Sickles. The old gentleman had lived with the Widow Sawyer for years, and they had three daughters and a son. Old Mr Sickles finally consented to have a formal marriage ceremony performed, so that these children might be his lawful heirs. The three girls cloped, Alta being the last to do so. Elopement romances seem to run in the Sickles family, for Miss Laura, the daughter of Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, ran away from Paris in October, 1879, with a poor young southerner named McCarthy.

Glad to Get Rid of Them. After their marriage Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Dinham separated, but met again Thursday morning and took a train for Chi-cago. When informed of their departure, Mrs. Sickles said: "Let them go, I don't care to know anything about them. She had a goo't home, and I can't imagine what forced her to do it. I never want to see her again. I have supported two good-for-nothing husbands of my daughters for some time now, and I will not take a third on my
